

homesensory

Darren Sheldon

Founder of Home Sensory

I founded Home Sensory as I could see a need for improving services for people with physical mental and sensory difficulties.

I live in Hornsea with my wife and my son and we love been out and about and keeping busy. My son plays rugby and I enjoy going in the local leisure centre.

I have a background in helping people achieve their goals and overcome any difficulties they have.

Skills I have

- Extensive experience in the education of children with special educational needs.
- My career has included working with children in care homes with behavioural issues and worked in SEN settings.
- I have a BA in Business Management and a PGCE. He continues to add to his list of credentials and is currently studying for his MA in Education.

Help I offer

- Help with access the community
- Help with access technology and its benefits.
- Help with home education.
- Help with exploring and meeting individuals sensory needs
- Help with families work with and overcome behaviours that challenge.

My number is 07899677467.

The best way to contact me is to send a text or WhatsApp.

DARREN SHELDON

Hornsea-based maths tutor

I also offer Maths Tuition for those struggling to get to grips with maths.